

This form must be completed to be considered for employment

When considering individuals for University employment (both paid and volunteer), conviction/criminal history records are reviewed as they relate to the content and nature of the work, and the safety and security of University staff, students, patients, the public and University property. Additionally, the Washington State Child and Adult Abuse Information Law (RCW 43.43.830-.842) requires that employers ask applicants to disclose specific information about any convictions for crimes against persons and crimes relating to financial exploitation and findings in related actions and proceedings. This conviction information must be disclosed before an applicant can be considered for employment in any position which may involve unsupervised access to children, developmentally disabled persons or vulnerable adults as defined by the law. A conviction/criminal history record does not necessarily disqualify an individual for employment. Criminal history records may be verified through the Washington State Patrol or other law enforcement related agency; initial and/or continued employment may be subject to a satisfactory Criminal Conviction Report. When a criminal history inquiry is conducted, the applicant is notified of the inquiry in advance and must sign a separate release form. Applicants who do not sign the release form may be removed from consideration for employment. Individuals may contact the Washington State Patrol directly for information regarding their own records. Questions about the use of conviction/criminal history information in the application process may be referred to the University office issuing this form, or to Employment Services (685-2728), Medical Centers Employment Services (731-3233), Academic Personnel Records (543-5630), Student Employment (543-1840) or University Temporary Services (543-5813).

If you decline to provide the number, the University shall not for that reason deny any right, benefit, or privilege provided by law.
