Religion, Spirituality and Culture in Psychiatry:
Curriculum objectives:

• Expose residents to a variety of religious and spiritual traditions.

• Familiarize residents with assessing the religious, spiritual and cultural dimensions of patients.

• Educate residents about how patients' religiosity and spirituality can affect elements of treatment.

• Address end of life issues.

• Provide a forum for residents to discuss their own religious/spiritual and cultural identity and how this influences their professional work.